From the Chairman

During this holiday season, we pause to give thanks for the blessings in our lives, reflect on the events of the year, and look forward to 2020 with hope and optimism.

Your KIUC Board of Directors is thankful for the opportunity to serve you and work toward our collective goals as a locally owned and governed cooperative. In carrying out the work of KIUC, we look to the principles that are part of the fabric of utility cooperatives throughout our nation:

- ❖ Exist to serve the community that owns them and serve the needs of local customers rather than distant stockholders.
- ❖ Have a not-for-profit status that means a high level of service comes at the lowest possible price.
- ❖ Keep money in the local community, not just with lower rates, but by reinvesting locally to stimulate economic health and support critical social services.
- ❖ Hire workers who are your friends, family and neighbors who care about ensuring reliable, quality service.

- ❖ Represent democracy in action. Boards are elected by cooperative members. They hire utility management and are directly responsible to those who elect them.

- ❖ Are a part of the community. They are personally invested in being good stewards of the assets and of the environment in which they live.

Your cooperative is a local lifeline that supports and strengthens our community. Working side by side, we are more powerful together.

Have a joyful and blessed holiday season!

Me ke aloha pumehana,

Allan A. Smith

Recycling Solar Panels — Avoiding Solar Waste

By Leanna Thesken

Solar power plays a big role in Kaua'i's transformation to 100% renewable. We're often asked what will happen to the solar panels once they are past their useful life. It's a fair question. Providing solutions to environmental issues should be done with care so other environmental challenges aren't inadvertently created.

Kaua'i's successful renewable efforts are credited partially to the island's 4,300 rooftop solar systems. Utility-scale solar and solar-plus-battery projects also make a significant impact. The Tesla project alone consists of 55,000 solar panels—roughly 1.6 panels for every KIUC member. Nationally, the growth in solar has been exponential. According to the Solar Energy Industries Association, the U.S. will reach more than 4 million solar system installations by 2023.

As the number of solar panels in use continues to increase, a long-term challenge arises. Solar panels average a useful lifespan of about 25 to 30 years. Once the systems near the end of their lives, where do they go?

With KIUC's fairly new solar fields, the cooperative will not face the challenge of proper solar panel disposal for another 15 to 20 years. However, it is important to plan for the future, especially since solid waste disposal is already a challenge for Kaua'i.

Here's the good news: Solar panels are largely recyclable. In fact, according to SEIA, more than 80% of the material in PV panels by weight is glass and aluminum, both of which can be recycled and used in new panels. Other recyclable materials include copper, metals, silicon and sealants.

Overall, SEIA estimates roughly 90% of the panel material can be recycled. That number assures us Kaua'i's green energy efforts will stay green well into the future. 🌱

The Best Gift to Give to Kids May Not be a Present

The holidays are here and nearly everyone is thinking about what to get for the kids on their list. One thing we hear from Kaua'i youth is that they would like the gift of time. Your time. You matter to them.

Remember what it was like being a teenager? Not sure where you belonged or what the future may bring? Remember that one person who took the time to listen to you? The person who cheered you on when times were tough? He or she might have been a parent, your tutu, an auntie, an uncle, a teacher, a coach or a minister. You felt their love and support. And that mattered.

The Kaua'i Resilience Project wants us to know that our kids need us now more than ever. They need your gift of time – as well as your love and support. Every child needs someone in their corner.

This holiday season, why not give a child you care about your undivided attention? Play a board game, go to the beach, take a hike. Whatever you choose, choose to listen. Really listen. Show them how much they matter. And then you will know how much you matter to them.

“Got Energy Literacy?”

By Carolyn Larson, Librarian

Knowledge is power. Lihue Public Library partners with KIUC to bring you a broad range of book titles on energy topics available through your Kaua'i neighborhood library. While promoting energy literacy, titles will cover many viewpoints and are not meant to reflect the policies of KIUC or the public library.

Earth: The Operators' Manual

By Richard B. Alley

Call Number: 621.04209 Al

This book gives a good overview of the science that detects the current man-made global warming and shows the many options for a win/win future through energy innovation. Using one engaging story after another and keeping the science understandable, Alley covers the history of human energy use over the centuries, a presentation of the evidence that the rising level of CO₂ from fossil-fuel energy is bringing damaging global warming, and a survey of the alternative energy options available to us right now. Our current energy system comes at a high price. As we rapidly burn through the limited supply of available fossil fuels, the carbon dioxide released is changing the climate in profoundly negative ways. Alley shows us how we know CO₂ has been the main control knob of these slower changes and our actions are more significant than natural cycles. He explores the major alternatives to fossil fuels, including nuclear, solar, wind and geothermal energy and describes how new energy sources can improve security and fuel economic growth in the 21st century. Author of “The Two-Mile Time Machine: Ice Cores, Abrupt Climate Change and Our Future,” Alley is a leader in understanding global warming. He is a member of the United Nations’ Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, which was awarded the 2007 Nobel Peace Prize. 🌍

2020 KIUC BOARD OF DIRECTORS ELECTION

By: David Iha

Kaua'i Island Utility Cooperative, along with cooperatives across the country, operates according to the core seven cooperative principles of:

- ❖ Voluntary and Open Membership
- ❖ Democratic Member Control
- ❖ Members' Economic Participation
- ❖ Autonomy and Independence
- ❖ Education, Training and Information
- ❖ Cooperation Among Cooperatives
- ❖ Concern for Community

As an electric cooperative, members can actively participate in the second principle: Democratic Member Control. KIUC is a democratic organization governed by a board elected by, and accountable to, the membership.

Each year, KIUC conducts an election that culminates with voting ending in mid-March. The KIUC board appoints a nominating committee chair and nominating committee members, who confirm candidates for the board election. A member can submit a letter of interest and resume for consideration by the nominating committee to run in the election. A member may also submit a petition signed by at least 35 members. Ballots are usually mailed out in mid-February and must be completed by the voting deadline.

Voting plays a crucial part in our representative democracy. Voting in our KIUC election offers you an opportunity to exercise your civic responsibility—to select the best leaders for our co-op. Also in 2020, you will have the opportunity to vote in federal, state and local elections—opportunities to ensure elected officials understand the issues we face.

Soon after achieving statehood, Hawai'i's voter turnout and participation in our election process was very high. Since then, voter participation has declined. This year, let's improve our voting turnout by encouraging everyone to vote. KIUC is designed to produce a cooperative "of the people, by the people and for the people." Your vote ensures we're living up to this ideal. 🌱

KIUC's Waiahi Hydropower Facilities

KIUC owns and operates the Upper and Lower Waiahi hydroelectric plants, which generate 1.5 megawatts of electricity. These plants are among the most cost-effective that KIUC operates. Through their use, KIUC's member-owners realize an annual savings of up to $1.75 million, and the cooperative avoids burning roughly 675,000 gallons of diesel every year. They contribute to KIUC's growing renewable energy portfolio of solar, biomass and hydro, helping the cooperative to stay on track to meet the state of Hawai'i mandate to achieve 100% renewable generation by 2045.

Background

The use of water resources to create renewable energy has a long history on Kaua'i. The Waiahi hydros have been in operation for nearly a century, originally built by Līhu'e Plantation Co. for its sugar operations. To enhance water flow through the hydro plants, diversions were built at the North Fork of the Wailua River and at Waikoko Stream. Diverted water was delivered to the plants via a ditch system developed and maintained by the plantation. Water that flowed through the plants was also used for plantation irrigation purposes.

Following the closure of Līhu'e Plantation in 1999, Kaua'i Electric (now KIUC) assumed operation of the hydroelectric plants and requested approval from the State Board of Land and Natural Resources for continued water use from the North Fork Wailua and Waikoko diversions. BLNR granted the revocable permit, to be renewed annually, in 2002.

Responsible Stewardship

Recognizing the importance of maintaining this renewable energy resource, in 2004 KIUC asked the BLNR for a long-term lease for operation and maintenance of the system. Since then, KIUC has worked with the Department of Land and Natural Resources, the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, the Commission on Water Resources Management, Department of Hawaiian Homelands, DLNR Division of Forestry and Wildlife, DLNR Office of Conservation and Coastal Lands, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and others to address concerns relating to cultural, environmental and wildlife impacts. KIUC has also made ditch modifications to return more water to the streams.

In October, a 770-page draft environmental assessment was submitted to the Office of Environmental Quality Control for publication, inviting public review and comment. The document includes studies on flora and fauna, stream biota and cultural and socio-economic impacts. It eventually will be considered by BLNR for acceptance.

KIUC has retained its revocable permit and completed all the necessary preliminary steps to obtain the long-term lease. DLNR continues to work on the framework for lease adjudication. In the meantime, ditch-flow measurements are logged by KIUC and reported regularly to ensure diversion limits are met and mandated stream flow is maintained.

Focus on the Future

The Waiahi hydros are a foundational element of KIUC's renewable portfolio, which produces 50% or more of our island's power. The KIUC Board of Directors has set an aggressive strategic goal of reaching 70% renewable generation by 2030. Through strategic deployment of additional solar plus battery and pumped storage hydro generation, KIUC is confident this goal is achievable.

Maintaining legacy resources such as the Waiahi hydros is good for the environment and will help KIUC deliver clean, reliable and affordable electricity to our members for decades to come. 🌱

SmartHub: Power at Your Fingertips.

By Beth Tokioka

It's a tidy store with shelves stocked full of colorful items such as portfolios, pencils, art supplies and books. Customers stroll through the aisles, placing carefully hand-picked items into their baskets and chatting breezily about events of the day.

But there's something missing.

"We may be the only store on the island without a cash register," says Elyse Litvack, co-founder and president of Kumu's Cupboard, the self-proclaimed "free school supply store for Kaua'i educators."

Kumu's Cupboard was the brainchild of Elyse and former Kaua'i resident Sharon Lasker.

“Most educators spend money from their own pockets for classroom supplies and special projects,” Elyse says. “We wanted to help alleviate some of that burden and help teachers get supplies not readily available on island.”

The store opened in January 2017, and to date has resourced and made available more than $100,000 worth of school supplies, all free of charge. “Customers” include public, private and charter K-12 teachers, counselors and educational assistants. More than 600 island educators have registered to shop at Kumu’s Cupboard, representing every eligible school on the island.

Kukui Grove Center and Marketplace has provided complimentary space next to Great Harvest Bread Co. for the venture.

“Kumu’s Cupboard has received good support from individuals, service groups and businesses,” Elyse says. “This comes mostly in the form of monetary donations; however, we’ve received supplies as well.”

One source of funding for the project has been the KIUC Charitable Foundation, which provided $2,500 via grants in 2017 and 2019. Elyse says the grant funds have helped buy supplies as well as establish a resource center, making equipment such as laminators, comb binders and die-cut machines available.

“We also offer a lending service of non-consumable items, such as microscopes, math and science manipulatives, literature sets, teaching kits and even a few instruments,” Elyse says.

Giancarlo Graneto, who teaches the AVID program at Chiefess Kamakahalei Middle School, says Kumu’s Cupboard has added immeasurable value to his students’ work.

“I’ve been blessed with a resource for the supplies I need to help students find their spark, match it to a career, and identify the perfect college to fit their academic and financial needs,” he says.

KIUC Charitable Foundation board member David Iha says Kumu’s Cupboard aligns perfectly with the goal of the foundation.

“Investing in our keiki is vitally important to the well-being of our community,” he says. “The KIUC Charitable Foundation will continue to support our schools and our children, hopefully even more in the future with the launch of KIUC’s Makana program.”

Elyse says Kumu’s Cupboard is a true labor of love for all involved.

“We are an all-volunteer organization,” she says. “Amongst our volunteers are several teachers, a psychologist and a district resource teacher. The fact that they give of their time shows us that what we’re doing makes a difference.”

Hey, Do We Have Your Money?

Every year, KIUC publishes a list of members to whom we owe a patronage capital refund. Patronage capital is the money KIUC has left after paying all of its expenses in a given year. At the end of the year, that money is credited to each member's patronage capital account, according to the amount paid for electricity used.

In past years, KIUC issued checks to members, so it's possible some of those on the list simply forgot to cash the check or accidentally threw it away.

If your name appears on the list, you must apply for a refund. Please complete the refund form below and provide a copy of picture ID as proof the person requesting the refund is the same as the account holder.

You can mail in the form or bring it in to our office. If you need additional forms, download one from our website at www.kiuc.coop. If you have questions about patronage capital, please call 246.4300.

Please allow 45 business days for us to process your request.

Your Gift Invests in Our Community

By Teofilo Phil Tacbian

It seems as though a few cents may not buy you much these days. But don't despair. KIUC has created a program that will allow you to put a few cents every month to very good use.

The Makana Program is the gift of giving to organizations in our community. The concept is easy. Participating members agree to have their electric bill rounded up to the next highest dollar, and that money is collected for the Makana Program. For less than a $1 a month, you can make a difference.

Makana is completely voluntary. KIUC members "round up" their electric bill to the next highest dollar and donate that amount to the program. For example, if your bill for the month was $150.85, you could round it up to $151 and donate the extra 15 cents to Makana. The rounded amount is shown on your monthly electric statement. The maximum amount a member can contribute in a year is $11.88.

Donations are tax deductible. A summary of yearly contributions is reported to participating members on their December billing statement.

The Makana Program is administered by the KIUC Charitable Foundation—a nonprofit organization that started in 2002 and grants funds to worthy causes throughout the island, such as Kumu's Cupboard. A volunteer committee of members oversees the application review process. The committee makes decisions based on funds available and the community impact of requests made.

The KIUC Charitable Foundation was established to acquire, accumulate and disburse funds for charitable, scientific, education and public purposes in our local community. Contributions from the Makana Program will significantly increase the reach and impact of the foundation.

A little change can make a big difference. Find out more on the KIUC website under the "Community" tab or look for Makana in Smart Hub. A few pennies a month could add up to great benefits to our beloved island of Kaua'i. 🌱

- Heat oven to 350 F.

Combine all ingredients in a bowl. Bake for 20 minutes. Serve with celery sticks or your favorite bread.

Breakfast Casserole

- 8 sausage patties, chopped
- 1 package bacon, chopped
- 1 medium crown of broccoli, chopped
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 tray mushrooms, sliced
- 1 package frozen chopped spinach
- 1 cup shredded pepper jack cheese
- ½ package frozen hash browns
- ½ block butter, melted
- 2 cups crushed corn flakes
- 12 eggs
- 1 teaspoon garlic salt

Heat oven to 350 F.

In a large pan, sauté bacon until browned. Add sausage patties, frozen spinach, onions, broccoli and mushrooms. Place frozen hash browns in a 9x13 pan. Add sausage and vegetable mixture. Crack eggs in a large bowl, and whisk. Add pepper jack cheese. Pour egg mixture over everything in the pan. Top with corn flakes. Drizzle melted butter over flakes.

Bake for 30 minutes.

Kaua'i Shrimp in Jack Fruit Jackets

12 Kaua'i shrimp	2 teaspoons salt	1 teaspoon Cajun seasoning, optional
¼ jackfruit	1 teaspoon paprika	1 lime
2 tablespoons vegetable oil	1 teaspoon cayenne pepper

Prepare the jackfruit by peeling it, removing the seeds and pulling off the yellow pockets that enclose the seeds. You will need one pocket or "jacket" per shrimp. Use gloves when handling jackfruit to avoid the sticky residue.

Peel and de-head the shrimp, saving heads and shells for a future soup.

Dry the shrimp. Sprinkle it with salt, paprika, cayenne pepper and your favorite spicy seasoning.

Heat oil in a frying pan. Sauté shrimp until barely cooked, about 3 minutes. Remove from pan to cool slightly. Place each shrimp in a jacket. Secure with a toothpick, if desired.

Squeeze juice from 1/2 lime over shrimp and fruit. Garnish with remaining lime slices.

Statement of Operations

For the period 01/01/2019 – 09/30/2019

KIUC's results of operations through September 30, 2019, are favorable, with renewable energy generation exceeding 50% and year-to-date electricity usage on the island 2% higher than in the prior year. Even with the increase in sales volume, KIUC is still doing everything we can, while maintaining safety and reliability, to reduce costs in various areas in order to operate efficiently and effectively, and continue to maintain a strong financial position. Revenues, expenses and net margins totaled $116.0 million, $108.6 million and $7.4 million, respectively, for the nine-month period ending September 30, 2019.

As is the case for all electric utilities, the cost of power generation is the largest expense, totaling $66 million or 56.8% of revenues. Commodities, which are fuel and purchased power costs, are the largest component of power generation, totaling $54.6 million or 47.1% of revenues. Fossil fuel is the largest component of commodities totaling $24.2 million or 20.8% of revenues. Other commodities include hydro power, totaling $7.3 million or 6.2% of revenues; solar power, totaling $13.3 million or 11.5% of revenues; and biomass power, totaling $9.8 million or 8.5% of revenues. The remaining $11.4 million or 9.8% of revenues represents the cost of operating and maintaining the generating units.

The cost of operating and maintaining the electric lines totaled $4.9 million or 4.3% of total revenues. The cost of servicing our members totaled $2.4 million or 2.1% of revenues. The cost of keeping our members informed totaled $0.5 million or 0.4% of revenues. Administrative and general costs, which include legislative and regulatory expenses, engineering, executive, human resources, safety and facilities, information services, financial and corporate services, and board of director expenses, totaled $11.1 million or 9.6% of revenues.

Being capital intensive, depreciation and amortization of the utility plant costs $10.9 million or 9.4% of revenues. Although not subject to federal income taxes, state and local taxes amounted to $9.8 million or 8.4% of revenues. Interest on long-term debt, at a very favorable sub-5% interest rate, totals $4.5 million or 3.9% of revenues. Non-operating net margins added $1.5 million to overall net margins. Revenues less total expenses equal margins of $7.4 million or 6.4% of revenues. Margins are allocated to consumer members and paid when appropriate. 🌐
